In Good Will Camp

An al fresco entertainment for charity this week was attended by the most prominent members of the younger set in the northwest section. The grounds Held Up and Robed at 1843 Ontario road were used for the sale of refreshments.

The decorations were done by the workers, and scores of the young people of the neighborhood volunteered for this service. The flowers were gathered and festooned by the young folk. Acting as master of ceremonies was Carlos Van Leer, jr., at whose home the affair was given, and Miss Dorothy Minster, of 1843 Ontario place, poured. The proceeds of the affair were forwarded today to the summer outings committee of the Associated Charities to be used for the children, who are given a few weeks' outing at Camp Good Will.

The scene was one of rare beauty. The decorations included flowers and flags. The costumes were picturesque, many of the girls wearing rompers, in imitation of the "kiddles" they were Congressman Moss Claims Separation From Old Dominion Helped Union Cause.

When Congress reconvenes an attempt s to be made to convince Uncle Sam's awmakers that the Federal Governnent should pay the $13,000,000 debt which the Supreme Court says West Virginia owes to Virginia.

The judgment of the Supreme Court nded the long-standing controversy between the two States which grew ou of their separation during civil was times. It is now up to West Virginia to pay, and interest runs along if she doesn't pay. Congressman Moss, of the debt-burdned State, says he will ask the United States Government to assume the claim and Senator Chilton will offer a similar bill in the Senate. "The Federal Government should pay hs judgment," asserts Mr. Moss, "The separation of West Virginia from Virrinia was a war measure and was necessary to help preserve the Union during the war. The western part of Virginia controlled an east-and-west railroad and that section remained

CLOTHING SOLVES CAMPBELL MYSTERY

Woman Identifies That Found On Body Found In Canal Two Years Ago.

Identification of clothing found on the body of a man taken from the Chesapeake and Ohio Canal, on August 6, 1913, has solved the mystery of the disap-pearance of William H. Campbell from his home in southeast Washington more than two years ago.

Mrs. Brill, of 3239 M street northwest, at whose home Campbell lived shortly before he disappeared, has recognized several pieces of the clothing taken from the body as that which she gave Campbell several days before the disovery of the body.

Detectives had been working on the case for more than a year, but failed to find any clue of the missing man.
